

Wild animals belong in the wild!

PLEASE, DON'T GO TO CIRCUSES THAT USE ANIMALS.

In the wild, lions, tigers, elephants, and other animals enjoy exploring and being with their families. But in the circus, baby animals are taken from their mothers and forced to perform silly tricks by trainers who hit them, whip them, and even electroshock them. When they're not performing, they're usually chained or caged—often for a long time.

Circuses are no fun for animals!

PETA
kids